A few frequently asked questions

What is the SNU?

The Spiritualist' National Union of Churches (SNU) is the recognised national body in the United Kingdom for Spiritualism as based upon the Seven Principles. It is registered as a religious charity with the Charity Commission.

It has been legally recognised by the Home Office since 1939 as an appointing body for Spiritualist Ministers.

What are the Seven Principles?

The Fatherhood of God

The Brotherhood of Man

The Communion of Spirits and the Ministry of Angels

The Continuous existence of the human soul

Personal Responsibility

Compensation and retribution hereafter for all the good and evil deeds done on earth

Eternal progress open to every human soul

Do I have to be a Spiritualist to come along to the church?

No, everyone one who walks through the doors of our church will receive a warm welcome at any of our services or special events.

Will people at the church try to persuade me to become a Spiritualist?

No because we all have free will, of course our services are Spiritual and run in accordance with SNU rules however nobody will try to get you to change your religion. As Spiritualists we respect all religions but if you express a wish to learn more then we will of course be happy to answer any questions.

If you do decide you want to find out more about becoming a Spiritualist then you can of course approach the president of our church or any of the committee who will be able to discuss this with you.

The SNU has a correspondence course entitled: Basic Spiritualism, which would be an excellent introduction and may well inspire any discussions you may wish to have at the church.

What happens at the Church?

All our services open and close in Prayer, the Divine Service on Sundays includes a reading, an address, a healing prayer and hymns. The Wednesday Awareness Evening includes a reading, a talk and sometimes a question and answer session. Both services have been arranged so that you can see a resident or visiting medium demonstrating their ability to communicate with those loved ones who have already left the earth-plane, therefore giving the proof of our fourth principle. After the services on Sundays and Wednesdays you are more than welcome to stay behind and have a tea or coffee and chat with people. Members of the church committee are always on hand to answer any questions you may have.

We also have a healing evening at the church and special events as advertised.

Is there a charge for attending church?

Only for special events or on a Wednesday evening when there is a small entrance fee to cover the cost of the medium.

During our Sunday service a collection is taken.

On the healing evening you may make a donation to the church to help with the upkeep if you so wish.

There is a charge for private readings during the Saturday Specials or by private arrangement.

There is also a charge if you require a healer to do a private visit in your own home.

What is a healer?

A healer is an instrument through which spiritual healing energies are channelled to the patient. A SNU spiritual healer is a person who practices spiritual healing in accordance with the teachings and philosophy of SNU spiritualism.

Do SNU Spiritual Healers have training?

Yes, all SNU registered healers undergo a two year training period during which time they undertake educational courses on healing. Following the two years they undergo a practical assessment to ensure that they have attained acceptable standard of presentation and conduct. They can then, if they wish, further their studies.

Is there a Code of Conduct for Spiritual Healers?

Yes, all SNU registered Spiritual healers must work in accordance with the SNU Healing Code of Conduct and the law. This covers all legal and ethical aspects appertaining to the application of spiritual healing.

Are SNU Healers registered?

Yes, to make sure that the Spiritual healer is in fact registered with the SNU ask to see their current registration card. These are renewable every year and carry an expiry date.

Do healers charge for their services?

If you are coming along to the healing session at the church all the healers working do so on a voluntary basis, however you may make a freewill donation if you wish in order to keep the church open. If you are requesting a healer visit you in your own home, you are advised to ask the healer about fees before making the appointment.

Can a healer guarantee a cure?

No one can guarantee a cure of any disease or condition, be it healer, doctor, or other types of therapy. However there have been thousands of cases where patients have shown an improvement.

Is healing an alternative therapy?

No, healing is complimentary. The patient is NEVER encouraged to stop orthodox treatment, indeed if the patient has not seen their GP they are encouraged to do so. Some SNU healers also work in GP's surgeries and hospitals, if you wish a healer to visit you in hospital do ask the healing leader for information regarding this.
